MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

25X1A

SUBJECT : ISINGLASS Briefing for DOD Visitors to []

1. On 28 July, Mr. Daniel Fink, Assistant Director of Defense Research and Engineering for Strategic and Space Systems; John E. Kirk, Assistant Director Research and Engineering for Space Technology, and Mr. Harry Davis, Special Assistant to Dr. Flax, visited []

[] Mo. for an ISINGLASS briefing. Messrs. James Cunningham, John Parangosky and [] of Office of Special Activities were present. []

[] led the team of [] briefers. []

[] conducted the propulsion portion of the briefing.

2. It was readily apparent that the DOD visitors were impressed with the ISINGLASS presentation and depth of work accomplished on a broad front by []. The hardware display, films, charts, and graphs on various tests and results were particularly well received. Harry Davis privately commented he had no idea that so much meaningful work had been accomplished by both [] and []. He also was heard to say that he was worried about the lack of funds in FY'67 and '68 for this type of an effort.

3. During the return Jet Star trip to Washington, Harry Davis remarked to [] an OSA Security Officer, that he was very pleased with the briefing. Further, that he would attempt to persuade Dr. Flax to make available [] to the ISINGLASS program.

4. Messrs. Cunningham and Parangosky elected not to return from St. Louis to Washington with the DOD visitors in their Jet Star in order to afford them some privacy and to
